

Calendar?

Well, a calendar wouldn't really solve the problem, because there would still be a confusing amount of websites to go to

What Should We Make As A Solution?

As in, we know the problem is that there are too many apps being used and it's confusing, but how should we solve this?

Completely new platform that all teachers should use?

All teachers could use this platform and link different sites they personally like to use?

I think this isn't plausible because it's almost impossible to have an app that meets all the needs of a teacher

ONE PLATFORM THAT DOES IT ALL?

We could have a program, that does all these and puts them in separate pages, so you only need one program

Basically a program that does all the work, it would be the easiest way to make everything SIMPLER, because the teacher doesn't have to do anything or change the way they are teaching class at the moment, this app will connect everything

This would be very useful for all students and colleges to link existing websites onto one platform to avoid going onto multiple different websites at one time

Program which will organize and chronologically list everything needed to be done for a Class?

So the teacher doesn't have to change anything, they just say, you can use this platform which AUTOMATICALLY makes everything available on one page

We want to make something, where it doesn't matter if the teacher decides to use it or not, the student can just enter all the platforms the teacher uses, and it does all the work for them

One platform that does it all will be the most beneficial

That would fulfill the organization aspect of the problem, but you would still need to have the other platforms open

Maybe advance it a little more to organize by class but also by the amount of assignments and little area for notes on assignments that the teacher mentioned to help us with

Program, which just links to others?

This would be useful, because only a reminder app, like Navigate Student is helpful in reminding you, but you can't complete everything by just going on it

A platform that links to others is incredibly useful because teachers can continue to whatever site they want and the student can reach that site in a much easier way

What should be on the Application?

Reminders Page

Each class should have there own folder

Page with SCHEDULE

So there should not only be a folder for each class, but a folder that shows all the classes at once in order

CALENDAR!!

Then there should be a way to view all homework separately from other classwork, that way, a student would know what they have or have not completed in each section

There should be a way to view grades, do homework, and see class times from one place.

There should be a MAIN page where all assignments are chronologically
listed, and based on class

Students will enter what programs they use and they will sign into them from the application/website

PLATFORM. This program has to be able to work with all the different programs used. So everything is done on the side of the program, it should be able to be used immediately on any class, because it does

Benefits?

Less confusion

Easier to locate and turn in assignments

Makes
life easier

Relieves anxiety

Improves workflow of where assignments
are located

Students will be more productive

Students will be less stressed

Makes
students feel less overwhelmed

Don't have to switch from one website to the next

Classes that are online and in person?

Shouldn't matter, all online classes should be linked to this one platform

This should be a program, that works with any workflow be it online or in person, it's a PRODUCTIVITY app that's especially useful when all your classes are online

It shouldn't matter whether a class is online or in person, because the only difference during corona virus is that the online one will use one extra platform to video meet, however everything else is the same, including hw, quizzes, and tests

Even if a class is online and in person, there should be only one platform used

ONLY difference between online and in person: VIDEO CALLING

Future Use?

We don't know when the virus will end so for now I see a future use for a new platform

FUTURE USE : YES

I think one platform either by itself or linking together current sites, should be used for now on or for a long time

It should be FUTURE PROOF, so when covid ends, it's still a very useful and relevant application that improves WORKFLOW

Yes, especially since if students have parents that are split and must travel to different states, this program will help them stay on task and not fall behind.

Even after the virus passes, all online classes should make use of one online platform to link existing platforms

Platforms to Use?

ALL APPLICATIONS will be able to use it

Separate platform to link existing sites

Strictly Blackboard?

All of these sites being potentially linked onto one platform

Eventually, it would be great to use only
one platform,
however that will be a much harder project, for now, we need a completely separate PLATFORM to connect and link the other ones used at present

Maybe zoom and email all
assignments?
(possibility)

Goggle
classroom (maybe)

Maybe
dashboard (drop box)
